

Dear friends,

18 Nov 06

What a combination of words to write in the subject of this email update!?!? :-) Made me chuckle for some odd reason.

Lynn's 3 hr surgery went well. Dr. Malone straightened Lynn's nose and cleaned out the sinus cavity. The surgery wasn't pleasant nor recovery but he is grateful he had it done. He can breathe easier, has no pressure on his right eye, just is dealing with some headaches but they are less than he has had for the last 2 years. He is scheduled with an optometrist in December as he really needs a change in his glasses now that everything else is taken care of! We are hopeful this will also help with those annoying headaches. THANKS for keeping Lynn in your thoughts and prayers!

Lynn has been at the National Missionary Convention in Indianapolis and is returning this evening. He helped lead a workshop with our team leader, Dan Crum. On returning Lynn will stop in Champaign to bring Crystal home for fall break and then drive to Galesburg, IL to pick up Joyce Omondi, a Kenyan friend of Crystal's studying at Knox College. The girls have already told me they will be cooking Kenyan food and drinking real Kenyan chai! Joyce and Crystal were high school classmates in Nairobi so we made plans long ago for Joyce to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with our family...she has never experienced an American Thanksgiving. So we are excited to share our heritage with her!

And speaking of Thanksgiving...we remain grateful for your continued prayer and financial support. It has been such a blessing to us in visiting with many of you across the country and we look forward to seeing the rest of you in the months to come. Our thanksgiving platter is filled to overflowing with your kindness, generosity, and encouragement.

May your Thanksgiving platter be filled as well. Happy Thanksgiving!!!
